TO THE COMMUNITY

Better Health Partnership (BHP) has been a hallmark collaborative leader in Northeast Ohio since 2007. We bring health and social service providers together with other sectors, to share data and best practices that help accelerate improvements and reduce disparities in health. These activities are the secret sauce of our nationally recognized success with reducing racial disparities in adult diabetes care and improving blood pressure control in minority populations. Despite global pandemic disruptions, our partners uphold an unwavering commitment to collaborating for a healthier northeast Ohio, including eliminating structural racism, along with other barriers, that prevent individuals from achieving optimal health and well-being.

Our common goal is successful collaboration that results in zero infant deaths, zero children and adult suicides, substance use, uncontrolled chronic conditions, and reduced food and economic insecurity across all populations. Working together, we create equitable opportunities for all individuals to be healthy and thrive.

With sincere gratitude for your continued partnership and support,

President and CEO
Better Health Partnership

Key Approaches to Mission Achievement

Better Health Partnership’s growing health improvement collaborative now includes more than 500,000 adults and children served by approximately 2,000 providers from 18 health systems across Northeast Ohio, several social service agencies, managed care organizations, employers, public health, and community-based organizations.

Informed by data collected from our partners, we provide neutral convening to spawn collaboration and best practice sharing to accomplish our mission using three key approaches: 1) Facilitation of continuous health care delivery system improvement; 2) Leading or partnering in cross-sector, strategic, health equity impact initiatives, and 3) Implementation of social determinant of health (SDOH) interventions to connect at-risk populations to care and resources to help meet their health, social, educational and economic needs.

In this report, we highlight some of the collaborative’s 2020 strategic priorities designed to achieve greater health equity and return value to our partners and the community.

First Year Cleveland:
Every baby deserves to celebrate a first birthday

For the past two decades, the leading contributing factor to infant deaths in our region has been prematurity.

By working together, Action Team #4, led by BHP and Dr. Brian Mercer, Chair Ob-gyn of The MetroHealth System, and including Clinical Experts from University Hospitals, Southwest General, and the Cleveland Clinic, discovered actionable areas for improvement that could potentially help prevent or delay premature births. One of the team’s most dramatic findings were the delays noted in pregnant women accessing prenatal care following an emergency room visit, representing lost opportunities to provide care, coordinate care, and identify risks early in pregnancy. Improvement interventions are underway, including integrating findings from Action Team #1’s patient experience journey mapping, to provide insights related to implicit bias, structural racism, and other obstacles that may be affecting premature birth.

Additionally, Action Team #4 Providers work tirelessly to ensure new and expectant parents during COVID-19 isolation days, have everything they need for a healthy pregnancy and baby, including providing videos with reassuring and informative messages to their patients and the community.

Community Information Exchange
Building Bridges, Breaking Barriers

Working together with health systems, community agencies, and UW 2-1-1 of Cuyahoga and Summit counties, Better Health Partnership is working to bridge the communication and information exchange divide between health and human service providers in Northeast Ohio to improve health outcomes and promote equity. Working across sectors to create a community information exchange (CIE), to achieve better care coordination for vulnerable populations, begins with shared goals for data sharing that inform meaningful improvement strategies and guide future stakeholder investments.
Better Health Pathways HUB

Community Health Workers “hub up” for greater impact on health equity

In 2020, Better Health Partnership launched the new Pathways Community HUB (PCH) for Cuyahoga County – becoming one of ten Pathways HUBs in the state of Ohio, supported by the Ohio Commission on Minority Health. The PCH is an evidence-based, care coordination model that improves health, reduces costs and promotes equity. It leverages Community Health Workers to help connect at-risk, primarily minority populations, to care and resources to meet health, economic and social needs.

The HUB brings scalability and sustainability of social services in the region by creating a large, centralized network of care coordination agencies who work “pathways” to meet client needs and are reimbursed from Medicaid Managed Care Organizations for achieved outcomes.

Children’s Health Initiative

Strengthening collaboration to improve health and social-emotional outcomes for children

Concern for children’s health and well-being has never been greater than during the COVID-19 global pandemic. The disease has completely disrupted children’s primary health care, education, social and family life. And for some- leaving them feeling anxious, depressed, hungry and alone.

Better Health Partnership’s Children’s Health Leadership Team, co-chaired by Steve Spalding MD, VP Population Health, Akron Children’s Hospital and Andrew Hertz MD, Vice President, Rainbow Primary Care Institute; Medical Director, Rainbow Care Connection stepped up to face these growing challenges to ensure our youth’s health and social needs are adequately met. Together, enabled with passion and data, they work collectively to improve outcomes with obesity, asthma, lead exposure, and mental/behavioral health.

Recent analysis, derived from our Partners’ data shows significant racial disparities in asthma diagnosis rates, not only between neighborhoods, but within neighborhoods. This highlights an opportunity to inform cross-sector targeted interventions, such as improved housing conditions, air quality, and flu vaccination programs that may help prevent unnecessary, costly asthma exacerbations.
